

The background of the slide features a large, faint, purple-toned seal of the Cleveland Heritage Medal. The seal is circular and contains a detailed illustration of the Cleveland skyline, with the prominent spire of the Terminal Tower at the top center. The seal is surrounded by a ring of stars and a decorative border.

The background is a solid dark purple. Overlaid on this is a large, faint, circular graphic. Inside the circle, there are several white stars arranged in a semi-circle at the top. Below the stars, there is a stylized illustration of a bridge, likely the Manhattan Bridge, with its distinctive lattice structure. The bridge is also rendered in a light purple or white color, blending with the background.
